Location:	Rossett Acre Primary School	Date of Assessment:	25 th June 2025	Assessor:	Kate Woodcock Deputy Head and DSL

Radicalisation is defined as the process by which people come to support terrorism and extremism and, in some cases, to then participate in terrorist groups.

"Extremism is vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas" (HM Government Prevent Strategy 2011)

Since the publication of the Prevent Strategy, there has been an awareness of the specific need to safeguard children, pupils and families from violent extremism. There have been attempts to radicalise vulnerable children and pupils to hold extreme views including views justifying political, religious, sexist or racist violence, or to steer them into a rigid and narrow ideology that is intolerant of diversity and leaves them vulnerable to future radicalisation.

National risks – Identified on the CTLP and through Prevent briefings

What national risks are you aware of that could impact to your area, setting, students or families? For example, online radicalisation

Islamist Extremism- The threat from Islamist terrorist groups based abroad is persistent and has evolved. Sustained counter-terrorism pressure from the UK and its allies has suppressed the most serious terrorist threats. But groups such as Daesh and al Qa'ida have evolved and adapted their approach and are now active in more countries than ever before. Although their capabilities remain far below earlier peaks there are signs of resurgence. Both continue to inspire, enable and direct radicalised individuals and groups and maintain their intent to attack the UK

Extreme right-wing terrorism. The remainder of the UK domestic terrorist threat is driven almost exclusively by Extreme Right-Wing Terrorism (ERWT). The threat from ERWT in Western countries is increasingly a transnational issue in terms of radicalising influence, inspiration and communication terms of radicalising influence, inspiration and communication

Online extremist propaganda remains a focus for both Islamist extremist and ERWT ideologies, with new and Islamist extremist and ERWT ideologies, with new and recirculated material disseminated. The nature of the online space transcends geographical boundaries and facilitates access to wider networks.

Local risks – Risk of radicalisation in the local area, identified on the CTLP for region

What specific local risks are you aware of that could impact to your area, setting, students or families? E.g. local extremist activity (groups active in the area)

A key risk in the Yorkshire region emanates from Self-Initiated Initiated Terrorism (SI-IT). It is also a key risk nationally, largely due to extremist and ERWT ideologies, with new recirculated material the unpredictable nature of SI-IT, making detection difficult. SI-ITs emanate from all ideologies.

Online extremist propaganda remains a focus for both Islamist disseminated. The nature of the online space transcends geographical boundaries and facilitates access to wider networks.

Radicalisation activity, both online and in person, continues to be a key risk in the Yorkshire region. Extremist groups across all ideologies can utilise the online space to recruit, radicalise or coordinate attack planning.
